Beaune Premier Cru «Cents Vignes» 2024 89-91/100

Once again the nose is fresh, cool and bright with its combination of red and dark cherry that is cut with a touch of crushed anise. There is slightly better volume to the seductively textured and vibrant flavors that possess a caressing mouthfeel, all wrapped in a dusty and youthfully austere finale that offers even better persistence. (89-91)/2030+

Volnay Premier Cru «Les Aussy» 2024 90/100

A touch of post-bottling reduction presently pushes the underlying fruit to the background. Much like the texture of the Volnay villages, the mouthfeel of the middle weight flavors is super-sleek thanks to the fine-grained tannins shaping the lightly stony and more tightly wound finale. This is very Aussy in character and a wine that should both drink well young and with up to a decade of keeping. 90/2031+

Volnay Premier Cru «Les Caillerets» 2024 90/100

This is quite firmly reduced and definitely in need of a thorough aeration if you're tempted to try a bottle young. By contrast, there is very good verve to the strikingly textured middle weight flavors that also brim with minerality that carries over to the bitter pit fruit and lightly acidulated finish. This is actually more harmonious than the description would suggest but with that said, it's a wine that clearly needs a few years of bottle aging first. 90/2031+

Volnay Premier Cru «Clos des Chênes» 2024 90-93/100

A restrained though exuberantly fresh nose is comprised by notes of red cherry, soft earth nuances and a whiff of exotic tea. As one would reasonably expect, the medium-bodied flavors possess more size, weight and volume along with evident power on the compact, serious and decidedly built-to-age finale. This is definitely a wine that's going to need at least mid-term keeping though Clos des Chênes almost always does. (90-93)/2036+

Volnay Premier Cru «Les Mitans» 2024 90-92/100

(from Mitans proper and distributed only in the US market). Here too there is just enough reduction to overshadow the underlying fruit. By contrast, there is excellent vibrancy and freshness to the beautifully textured medium weight flavors that possess slightly better depth and persistence on the lightly austere finale. Much like the Les Aussy, this too should be reasonably approachable young but have no trouble repaying mid-term keeping. (90-92)/2031+

Volnay Premier Cru «Les Pitures» 2024 91/100

(from 35+ year old vines). A discreet application of wood easily allows the fresh aromas of both red and dark cherry, plum and violet to be appreciated. There is excellent power to the solidly voluminous flavors that also exude evident minerality on the firm, balanced and impressively long finale that isn't quite as compact. Very promising though like the Taillepieds and Clos des Chênes, this too is a wine that will need at least some patience. 91/2034+

Volnay Premier Cru «Les Taillepieds» 2024

An overtly floral-infused nose is again fresh, cool and airy with its array of the essence of red pinot fruit, violet, rose petal and wet stone. There is fine volume and excellent punch to the utterly delicious and almost painfully intense flavors that brim with a borderline aggressive minerality on the youthfully austere, firm and very much built-to-age finale. This is classic Taillepieds along with the patience it's going to need. Well-worth considering. (91-93)/2034+

2026

Domaine Jean Chauvenet Côte de Nuits

BURGHOUND

JUIN 2026

Bourgogne Pinot Noir «Noyer Pendu» 2024 87-89/100

(The name of the climat is used only for the American market but it's the same wine sold in other markets around the world). Ripe aromas of black cherries, earth and a hint of wood lead to nicely voluminous and energetic middle weight flavors that possess good precision on the lingering and mildly rustic finale. This is an excellent Bourgogne and recommended. (87-89)/2027+

Nuits-Saint-Georges «Vieilles Vignes» 2024 88-91/100

A more deeply pitched nose reflects notes of plum, dark currant and more prominent earth influence that are also trimmed in discreet wood influence. There is very fine volume to the rich and solidly concentrated medium weight flavors that conclude in a firm, moderately austere and rustic finale. This is a very good and classically styled Nuits that should repay mid-term keeping. This too is worth your interest. (89-91)/2031+

Nuits-Saint-Georges Premier Cru «Les Bouscelots» 2024 89-91/100

(From a parcel on the northern end of the vineyard). This is even riper as the nose is comprised by notes black cherry liqueur, kirsch and again, a discreet dollop of wood. The rich, succulent and sappy medium-bodied flavors possess a suave mid-palate that contrasts moderately with the firm, stony and powerful finish that exhibits excellent length. This balanced effort should reward up to a decade of keeping. (90-93)/2032+

Nuits-Saint-Georges Premier Cru «Les Perrières» 2024 90-92/100

(from a .23 ha parcel). Here the wood treatment is very subtle and easily allows the more elegant and spicier red berry fruit aromas to be appreciated. The sleeker and finer, if less powerful and concentrated, middle weight flavors possess a completely different texture before culminating in a youthfully austere finale where a touch of tang slowly appears. This is pretty but the balance isn't quite as well dialed in. (90-92)/2032+

Nuits-Saint-Georges Premier Cru «Les Vaucrains» 2024

Vivacious, crushed cherries mix with licorice and woodland scents on the nose and palate. Full-ish in body, the youthful fleshiness is nicely countered by grippy tannins. Twenty percent sees barrel, but none are new. Drink from 2026-2027.

Aloxe-Corton Premier cru «Les Moutottes» 2024 90/100

Once again there is a whiff of herbal tea character lurking in the background of the slightly riper aromas of dark currant, earth and more prominent sauvage wisps. On the palate there is both good volume and a seductive texture to the more refined medium-bodied flavors that exude a subtle minerality on the firm and lightly austere finale. 90/2030+

Aloxe-Corton Premier cru «Les Valozières» 2024

This flirts with reduction and it's just enough to blur the nuances of the red and dark berry aromas. There is by contrast good freshness and verve to the relatively sleek yet decidedly powerful medium weight flavors that firm up noticeably serious, compact and linear finish. As is virtually always the case with Valozières, it's going to require at least mid-term cellaring to arrive at its apogee. 91/2031+

Côte de Nuits-Villages 2024 88/100

(from Le Creux de Sobron in Corgoloin; 30% whole cluster). A spicy mix of both red and dark currant along with plenty of earth and a floral top note complements the caressing, supple and round flavors that deliver good length and just enough rusticity to notice. This too should drink well relatively earth on. 88/2028+

Corton-Bressandes Grand Cru 2024 91/100

This too is sufficiently reduced to blur the nuances of the underlying fruit. More interesting are the supple and delicious, if not especially dense, flavors that still manage to project solid power on the impressively long finish that is supported by a moderately firm tannic spine. This should develop well over the mid-term. 91/2032+

Ladoix «Les Buis» 2024 90/100

(from the villages portion of the vineyard). Slightly more oak influence is present on the spicy, cool and fresh aromas of mostly various dark berries and discreet earth wisps. The super-sleek and wonderfully textured medium-bodied flavors deliver excellent persistent on the firm and balanced yet refined finale. This is an impressive wine for its level and well-worth your interest. 90/2030+

Ladoix «Les Carrières» 2024 89/100

Here too there is just enough wood in evidence to merit mentioning without it intruding on the cool aromas of wild dark berries, violet and a whiff of herbal tea character. There is again good volume and generosity to the plump, round and seductive middle weight flavors that exude evident minerality on the lightly austere finale where the only nit is a hint of warmth. This is also a very good villages that is also worth considering. 89/2029+

Ladoix Premier Cru «Le Bois Roussot» 2024 89/100

A discreet application of wood can be found on the cool blend of plum, dark currant and pretty floral wisps. There is solid volume, richness and punch to the generously proportioned flavors that possess both good power and ample sappy dry extract that serves to buffer the slightly firmer tannic spine shaping the moderately rustic finale. This is a very good Ladoix villages and worth considering. 89/2029+

Ladoix Premier Cru «La Corvée» 2024 90/100

Once again the wood treatment is deft in that it's just enough to notice without being intrusive on the mix of red and dark cherry, soft earth and vague suggestions of the sauvage and an herbal tea component. The exceptionally rich, even opulent, medium-bodied flavors tighten up markedly on the firm, youthfully austere and lightly austere finale. At least moderate patience will be needed here. 90/2031+
